

Welcome

It is with great joy that I welcome you to our Rotteriller family and congratulate you on your new Rottweiler puppy – one of our much-loved Hooligans. Each of our puppies carries not only the strength, intelligence, and beauty of the breed, but also a very special piece of my heart, and it makes me so happy to know that your puppy will now begin their life with you.

Owning a Rottweiler is a truly rewarding journey, filled with laughter, companionship, and plenty of unforgettable moments. These puppies are spirited, loyal, and full of personality – true little hooligans in the best possible way! I hope that your new family member will bring you joy, protection, and unconditional love for many years to come.

Please know that when you welcomed this puppy into your home, you also became part of our German Rottweiler community. From the very beginning, and for the lifetime of your dog, I am only ever a WhatsApp message or email away. Whether you have questions about health, nutrition, training, behavior, or simply want to share stories and photos, I am here to help, guide, and celebrate this journey with you.

I look forward to hearing how your little one settles in and grows into the magnificent Rottweiler they are destined to become. Thank you for giving one of my puppies a loving home and for carrying the name forward with pride.

With warm regards and best wishes,

*Rita Courtney
